DOYLE TO KICK-OFF NYAMA CONFERENCE

State-wide Airport Management Association to Meet in Monroe County

Monroe County Executive Jack Doyle will open the New York Airport Management Association (NYAMA) Fall Conference on Monday, October 2nd at 8:30 am at the Sheraton Four Points Hotel. In addition to Doyle, the conference will feature National Transportation Safety Board (NTSB) Chairman James Hall and Federal Aviation Administration (FAA) Air Safety Investigator Tony James (Office of Accident Investigation – “Go Team” Division).

NYAMA is a non-profit association of airport management officials with members from related State government agencies, planning boards, consultants and equipment manufacturers.

Representatives of New York State airports formed NYAMA in 1976, devoting the association to promoting airport development and representing the needs of the entire aviation industry. The Monroe County Airport Director, Terry Slaybaugh, currently serves as NYAMA President.

“Monroe County places a great emphasis on running an innovative and efficient airport facility,” said County Executive Jack Doyle. “We are very pleased to host this conference of industry leaders and look forward to the opportunity to share our experiences and to learn from other airport professionals from across our state.”

Both NTSB Chairman James Hall (bio attached) and FAA Air Safety Investigator Tony James are nationally and internationally recognized leaders in the areas of air safety and accident investigation.
